Emotional Intelligence

Have you ever felt like someone knew all the wrong buttons to push! We all have.... that's why Candy loves to teach folks how to get their emotions under control. In this session, you will laugh and learn a lot in an hour about your emotions and how to CALM DOWN with someone saying "Calm Down!"

“We wanted you to know what an impact you made at our TCP Innovation kickoff!! We're a very successful, fast growing industry-leading company, but as we continue to grow so quickly we face many challenges. You inspired us to be flexible and understanding in a time of significant growth and be accountable to ourselves and others when dealing with challenges- you helped us embrace our fabric and all its threads. 100% of the people were up and out of their seats, participating and cheering ('snap, clap, woo-hoo')...and everyone found value in the event, which for a company as diverse as ours-is a huge deal! Thank you!”
